On August 4th 2018, it was revealed that many well known ROBLOX users made fake accounts in order to copy their friends' progress. These fake accounts had the same username and picture as the original account owner but had no friends. Once these fake accounts gained a good amount of currency, they would join a game then buy the maximum amount of slots possible. The real account owner would notice that their account was missing and look at the fake profile's profile. While there were no friends, there were tons of transactions for items such as a $100-$150 purchase for 5000 robux. This could have been used to raise their reputation and potentially, make them more money.

Over the years, ROBLOX has used advertising to generate revenue for their company, which they generate through in-game purchases (microtransactions) or advertisements (which can be annoying for the players). In addition to this, they also generate revenue through selling virtual items (like the aforementioned Builders Club and ROBLOX Credit). The company has also released several games like their top grossing game "Build a Buddy". ROBLOX has been criticized for its lack of funding from advertisers as well as allowing other companies to make games on ROBLOX. The company has been criticized for their children friendly ads which are designed to be easily visible by children but are very inappropriate for them which is seen as a breach of the COPPA (Children's Online Privacy Protection Act) and their end user license agreement, although ROBLOX has since changed its policy. The company also uses an "Ads on the Web" program where they can serve certain types of ads depending upon a player's age and location.
