TikTok is now available on Android TV. The new version enables you to be able to pick up where you left off in a video from any screen on your Android TV. It also supports new gesture recognition modes, such as pinch-to-zoom, which allow for precise control over camera zoom or image playback controls. Taking your phone and placing it somewhere far away from you provides a better perspective on the videos created by the app: This is useful especially for taking videos that use a lot of depth of field without being too close to the subject.",

In the same month, a Chinese teenager in Chengdu died after dancing on the platform for 6 days straight. The dead girl had reportedly been binge-watching TikTok videos and trying to dance like the people she saw online. It is postulated that her death was from a lack of sleep and rest, as well as over-exerting herself physically from dancing.",

In another article published in the U.S., it was alleged that "TikTok is used by some adults as well as children, but it is designed for teens. It's intended to be a fun way to make friends and stay connected with friends and family. But because it's designed for teens, the app often turns into a platform for bullying." This article was published on The Houston Chronicle.",

On April 4, 2021, Tencent announced that it purchased the app for $1 billion and would merge it into their own platform, Kuaishou. The company was sued for copyright infringement and unlawful reproduction of musical works by Viacom, Inc. on November 23, 2021. Viacom claimed that the users of the app have illegally uploaded and reproduced more than 10,000 pieces of content owned by Viacom under the U.S. Copyright Act, Digital Millennium Copyright Act (DMCA), California Penal Code Section 502, and the California Uniform Trade Secrets Act (CUTSA). The lawsuit claimed that about 150 user accounts are registered with every second for which at least 20 million videos are being uploaded per day.

Users were required to give the app their name, email address/password and a phone number.",

Another article by The Guardian reported that "TikTok's team has a proven track record of transparency — it makes its internal rules public and allows users to report objectionable content. But a separate warning highlighted by the PwC report warns that "zero tolerance policies require that users take action against unacceptable behaviour, which may lead to removal of your account". The policy also outlines what is and isn't acceptable.""

Another article published in an Australian news outlet noted that "TikTok has attracted a constant stream of derision from users who accuse it of being a safety hazard or an easy way to find people's personal details, including their address." The article continued to describe how other users have used TikTok for their own self-promotion, including in order to gain money as well as promoting scams such as romance scams. Some users have also shared their concern how this app could potentially cause them harm if they upload sensitive images.",

In April 2021, TikTok began introducing advertisements into its videos. The advertisements contain short videos of celebrities and influencers that users can choose to watch. The ads are categorized as "Scenes" or "Music Moments". Scenic videos are 15- to 30-second clips of real-life events such as a pool party or a bride's wedding day whereas music moments are the same clips but with an audio overlay of a popular song. The ads are between 15 and 30 seconds long and can be skipped after 5 seconds.", TikTok attracts advertisers by combining videos from self-made creators with those recorded by popular artists into one app. The company was able to sign up brands including Pepsi, Red Bull and Taco Bell within its first few months of operation. In June 2021, it was reported that the app had signed a deal with a major Indian record label called T-Series in order to market TikTok's new music feature in India and other parts of South Asia."

In an article published by The Verge, it was alleged that "The complaint said more than 852 million people used Musical.ly worldwide in 2021. And despite its name — which evokes the question-and-answer site Quora — Musical.ly has begun to extend beyond allowing users to lip-sync popular songs for one another. Last year, the company rolled out a social-networking component called the Universe that helps users interact with one another." This article was published on The Verge."

In May 2021, TikTok launched a version of their app specifically for China called Douyin (Chinese: 抖音). The app is not available in China App Store or Google Play Store easily but is downloadable for Android users via third-party apps and has a separate iOS app store listing. The Chinese version features some localized content such as the ability to search event hosts by their name in situations like Line Walker. The app is also available in English, unlike its International counterpart with the English version being used by people who want to practice their Chinese."
