In 2003, a new logo was introduced to represent the company: it consisted of a white capital letter "O" on a black background. The logo underwent several changes under various visual design changes during this period. The "O" was sundered into two smaller, green squares with rounded bottoms that closely resembled the shape of the letter "L", which remained in use until 2010. In 2009, ROBLOX released an entirely new logo based on the previous one: this iteration featured a black capitalized "R" on a white background. It was designed to feature the company's name without any visual association to the original logo. The previous logo is still in use today, albeit with a thicker frame.

ROBLOX also has a wide variety of blueprints ranging from minigames to full games. ROBLOX's game engine runs within their own website, which they call the "Roblox Platform". The platform also has its own virtual servers that are separated between each user (known as Virtual Worlds). ROBLOX licenses the servers from Sabre Corporation. This means that the servers benefit ROBLOX and not any individual person or company. A private server is solely controlled by an individual and can only be accessed through the client provided by them.[33][34]

Who would want to play a game like this? Nobody really I would think. It's just like Roblox in that you can buy stuff with fake money, but there is no value in either one of them. The real issue is that the developer(s) of both games are making a ton of money from people who don't care about winning or losing, they just want to have fun.

The 100Robux app has been designed for the people who are looking to make money and earn in-game currencies, such as Robux, through online ads and offers. This would be a way for gamers to make money off their skills by building up their game and having other users purchase in-game currency.

I also remember back when Minecraft was first released, how difficult it was to find anyone who was willing to play with you or help you if your work didn't work out; but I did find my lovely wonderful best friend through Roblox and we play together every single day. Even though there is no one on my friends list, I can still go into Roblox and join a game with other people. When I do that, my friend will always join me if she's in the same room. But even so, I never have any actual friends in-game because it becomes a very lonely experience as time progresses.
