ROBLOX announced the launch of an app called ROBLOX Studio in July 2009, which allows players to make 3D videogames using ROBLOX Soft, or Lua scripting. These games can be shared on the website and with friends via social networking and email, making the virtual world even more alive than ever before. The app is free, but users must pay for revenue sharing of their games. On January 30, 2014 ROBLOX released its first app exclusively for iOS devices called "ROBLOX Studio" which puts a lot of its features into a more user-friendly format that previously had to be accessed through two separate products.

The American Federation of Television and Radio Artists (AFTRA) has demanded that Roblox includes their members. The union stated that they also want their actors to get compensation for their work. The union has also said that they have been talking with Roblox for more than a year before singling out the company for bad housekeeping by refusing to pay royalties and residuals while claiming to "be building careers".

In January 2016, the Roblox developers said they will be working with an external security firm to enforce a set of rules, and would only support third-party software that is approved by their partners.

There are also other options to get free robux. Some players have found ways to get free robux without having an account and without downloading ROBLOX Studio (which is the free version of ROBLOX) by using a different method or by using a fake card:

In April 2018, Roblox announced that it would be taking steps to address issues such as hate speech and violence. They issued a statement saying they would be working with the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children (NCMEC) to remove violent content. They also stated that they would be adding new policies and processes that they will be using to monitor issues with moderation.
