In February 2018, it was reported that a game called "Miner's Haven" has been criticized by Roblox users for having a suicide feature where players would have the option of killing themselves when their health reached zero. The players who played this game received a message from the developer named Master Zen said that he was working on an update that removed this feature. The update was released in March 2018 and it included an anti-suicide feature where the health would reset to 100 instead of 0. However, the developer confirmed that he would "still allow players to commit suicide if they are in the mood". To make up for this issue, Master Zen released a series of development updates that included fixing bugs and adding new features to "Miner's Haven".

If you see a home on something like Roblox and Minecraft, it's probably built out of random things a lot of people gave you; whereas in Minecraft there are actual blocks which you can use in the game itself.

The next time you log into your Roblox account, it is recommended that you take a moment and really think about what information and/or games can be accessed by the hacker. If this is not enough, start using anti-virus software to look over your computer for any unauthorized programs installed on the system. Never share personal information with any website that requires it, especially when it contains your email address.
