According to the ROBLOX website, there are over 15 million registered and active players. Like many other user-generated content sites for young children, ROBLOX encourages users to be safe and responsible on its site. It also has a moderation system that allows members of the community to report profiles and comments that may be inappropriate or offensive. Parents can also choose what games their kids can play, or even disable chat so other players can't talk to their child. ROBLOX has also introduced a new feature called "Guardians" which works like parental controls on most software. It allows players to set a game rating they are comfortable with, so that they can choose between games.

ROBLOX runs a no-sell policy that allows for players to earn "robustokens" or Robux. These tokens can be used to both purchase games, games from other users, and in-game items. It also serves as a way to gain currency for in-game purchases such as buying more slots, which helps players advance faster in the game.

I personally think that the vast majority of Roblox games are for children. There is only a few games that are suitable for adults which were developed in recent years, but there are also a large number of games that have been around for years, and it is still very popular. I don't think there is anyone who has played this game since they were a child, so it's not like people will stop playing because they're unhappy with the newer games.

The community is toxic in many ways, Robloxian's have made characters with inappropriate content such as swearing in their usernames or wearing inappropriate clothing that make it look like they are roleplaying as an adult even though they shouldn't be. Although there are ROBLOX moderators, there should be more since some of them don't join Roblox or just don't care about some of the problems that some people have on Roblox.

In response to these criticism, the ROBLOX website says that "Roblox does not condone the use of unauthorized software programs in games." However, this is not always the case as all users have full access to all of their content. In addition, if a publisher chooses to remove a particular asset from their game they cannot be held accountable for it."
